How to share & give feedback	Statistics related to deliveries are shared with perinatal medical facilities and administration in the Gunma Perinatal Medical System Council.
Analysis	Postpartum transports has increased. It is difficult for small-scale hospitals to treat severe patients after giving birth, so they should get treatment in a hospital with advanced facilities before becoming severe. Maternal transports possibly are rejected because of lack of empty beds, but the number of refusals has been decreasing. It might be influenced by decrease in number of deliveries.
